Sanyuesan Festival Honours Tang-Dynasty Song Fairy Liu Sanjie in Multi-Ethnic Celebrations Across Guangxi, Guizhou, Hainan and Jiangsu

Held on 19 April 2026 – the third day of the third lunar month – Zhuang, Miao, Dong, Bouyei and Li communities across four provinces observed the festival with antiphonal mountain-song fairs (gexu 歌圩), bamboo-pole dances, embroidered-ball tosses and shared platters of five-colour glutinous rice dyed black, red, yellow, purple and white with maple leaves, turmeric and red-blue grass. The song fairs commemorate Liu Sanjie (刘三姐), a Tang-era Zhuang peasant singer whose verses mocking landlords made her a folk hero until their retainers cut the vines she held while gathering firewood, causing her fall and apotheosis as the Song Fairy – a story retold in the 1962 film Third Sister Liu (《刘三姐》), the PRC's first musical.
